

This week: What $1 million can buy

1 ◀ Marina Del Rey, Calif. This two-story corner apartment has southwest-facing windows and 16-foot ceilings. The two-bedroom home boasts a gourmet kitchen, a game room, and a living area with a balcony. Purchase includes two parking spaces and a storage area, and the building is close to local restaurants and shops. $1,099,000. Linda Brown, Gibson International, (310) 463-3109

2 ▶ Southampton, N.Y. Built in 1987, this four-bedroom contemporary-style home has an open concept plan and high ceilings. The kitchen, bathrooms, fireplace, electrical system, and roof have all been recently remodeled. The 1.2-acre property features a deck and a new pool, and lies near the bay beach. $999,999. Brandon Collins, Corcoran Group Real Estate, (631) 417-5051

3 ▶ Barrington Hills, Ill. Hilltop House is a three-bedroom French-style manor built in 1932. The home includes oak and maple floors, a fireplace, crown molding, a wood-paneled dining room, and a turret converted to a walk-in closet. The 5.2-acre property features a pool, a gazebo, and a boxwood geometric garden. $1,095,000. Mimi Noyes Burke, RE/MAX of Barrington/Top Agent Network, (847) 421-2836

4 ▶ Hayes, Va. This three-bedroom house sits on the edge of a peninsula on the Severn River. The home features geothermal heating and cooling, passive solar walls, and doors salvaged from a historic Connecticut inn. The 0.7-acre property includes a dock, a private white sand beach, and a guesthouse with a kitchen and a living room. $1,050,000. Neena Rodgers, Isabell K. Horsley Real Estate, (804) 436-2326

5 ▲ Santa Fe This five-bedroom adobe home is close to the downtown historic plaza and area hiking trails. Features include four fireplaces, tile and wood floors, arched doorways, and exposed vigas. The courtyard has a flagstone upper patio and curved, built-in adobe benches called bancos. $1,000,000. Darlene Streit, Sotheby's International Realty, (505) 920-8001

6 ▲ Clayton, Mo. Sitting on the top floor of an art deco building, this four-bedroom condominium is nearly 3,400 square feet. The home has a chef's-style kitchen, four fireplaces, and a master suite with a rain shower and a spa tub. Additional details include a den with a full bar, a wine refrigerator, and multiple sets of French doors that open onto four balconies. $1,050,000. Robin Halterman, Dielmann/Sotheby's International Realty, (314) 922-3339