Formerly a resident of Manhattan, John spent ample time visiting the East End of Long Island before permanently settling in Wainscott. Previously, John obtained a business degree from Boston University. His proven success record also stems from having the financial savvy and keen negotiating skills imperative for closing deals at an optimal level for his clients. His natural ability to develop long-term and satisfying relationships with both buyers and sellers alike has resulted in John being one of the top producers on the East End and establishing him as the point person when people want to make a luxury real estate investment. His enthusiasm is infectious. His love of the Hamptons as a place to live and work is reflected in everything he does.

An avid outdoorsman, John enjoys spending time on the water, and the Hamptons is the perfect place to take advantage of the many bay and ocean beaches and waterways. Philanthropy is an important part of his life and John gives back to the Long Island community, serving as a volunteer fireman for 16 years, five of them as Chief. John resides in Southampton with his wife, two children and his black lab, Tucker.
